

angle of fifty degrees, the vast mass of tumult around us was beautifully accentuated by the full moon, sailing momentarily into new forms and drifting south in low, black clouds of ashes and ash clouds reaching to Capri. At Torre del Greco we ran under this terrifying pall, apparently a hundred feet above, the solidity of which was soon revealed by the moonlight. The torches of the railway guards added to the effect, but greatly relieved the sultry darkness.

"We reached Torre Annunziata at 3 o'clock in the morning. There was little suggestion of a disaster as we traveled through the sleeping town to the lava, two miles away. The brilliant moon gave us a superb view of the volcano, a gray brooding mass rising, expanding and curling with a profile like a monstrous cyclopean face. But nothing in my theology gives a suggestion of the fascination of this awful force, presenting the sublime beauty above, but in its desecrated field with the mysterious malignance of God's underworld. We reached the lava at a picturesque, express-planted cemetery on the northern boundary of Torre Annunziata. It was as if the dead cried out to arrest the crushing river of flame which plithery engulfed the statue of Saint Anna, which, behind the statue of Bosco, had led to stay it, as at Catania the veil of Saint Agatha is said to have stayed a similar stream from Mount Etna.

"We climbed on the lava. It was cool above, but still alive with fire below. We could see dimly the figures of men, which beyond the barrier of brown, which had closed the streets, torn down the houses, invaded the vineyards and broken the railways. A better idea of the surroundings was obtained at dawn from the railway. We saw north what was left of Bosco Trecese—a great square stone church and a few houses inland in a row of dull, brown lava. North and east rose a thousand patches of blue smoke, like swamp miasma. All was dull and desolate, with nowhere the familiar serpentine forms of the old lava streams.

Colossal Tragedy.

"Fancy a rich and thickly populated country of vineyards lying under three to six inches of ashes and clinders of the color of chocolate, with milk white above to the west, the volcano in full activity of its distribution to the outer edge of the circle of the same fate, and you will get an idea of the desolate impression of the scene, a tragedy colossal and heart-rending. Like that of Calabaria, it enlists the sympathy of the civilized world. It takes time for such a calamity to be realized."

Cooper—Striker.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WINCHESTER, VA., April 12.—A romance originating in meeting at Atlantic City four years ago, culminated in Philadelphia Tuesday, when Miss Belle Striker, daughter of the late James Striker, of Winchester, became the bride of Edwin H. Cooper, a prominent young man of Philadelphia. The marriage took place on the birthday of the bride and groom and was a brilliant affair. Mrs. Cooper is a Southern belle and has attracted much social attention in Philadelphia.

Blair—Adams.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) DANVILLE, VA., April 12.—Miss Annie Adams, of Spring Garden, and Mr. Blair, of near White Sulphur Springs, were married this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lucy J. Blair, a relative of the bride, at Whitesville, near the depot. Mrs. Blair is a prosperous young farmer, and he and his bride, who is a charming young lady, will make their future home in Pennsylvania county.

Double Wedding.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) DANVILLE, VA., April 12.—A double wedding was performed last night at the residence of Rev. J. C. Holland, pastor of the First Baptist Church, when Miss Mary E. Announces That He Will Begin Legal Proceedings to Re-gain Control.

WILL VISIT ZION LATER

Secures Order From Postal Order Checkmatting Recent Movement of Dowie.

(By Associated Press.) CHICAGO, April 12.—John Alexander Dowie will not give up his leadership of the Christian Catholic Church and return to Mexico. He will wage a vigorous legal warfare to regain control of Zion City and later will go to Zion City and proclaim himself the only "first apostle."

This statement was authorized tonight by Dowie himself and by lawyers who represent him.

Attorney P. C. Haley, of Eddy, Haley and Wetten, who represent Dowie and his counsel, to-night said:

"We have advanced, and will advance, only one condition—complete restoration of power, temporal as well as ecclesiastical, and a demand for an absolute retraction of the slanderous statements made by General Overseer W. Glenn Voliva and his followers against the moral character of Dowie."

Bill in Chancery.

"We are preparing a bill in chancery, petitioning the courts to set aside the transfer of the property at Zion City made by General Overseer Voliva and Deacon Alexander Granger, because the instrument was absolutely void. Dowie revoked Voliva's power of attorney two days before the illegal transfer was made."

Dowie has secured an order from the postal department directing that all mail addressed to Dowie be delivered to him in Chicago. This, it is said, will checkmate the general order sent out by Voliva ordering that no moneys be remitted to Dowie hereafter.

To a representative of the Associated Press, Dowie to-day emphatically denied the truth of a report to the effect that he had agreed secretly with a committee of Mormon missionaries to turn over to the Mormon Church Zion and all of its vast holdings. The only possible basis for this story, he explained, was that some months ago a coterie of Mormon missionaries appeared in the streets of Zion and distributed pamphlets expounding the doctrines of Mormonism. According to the statements of Dowie and his counselors, these men were ejected from the city.

KILLED BY SLAG HOPPER.

Automatic Reversal of Steam Hopper Cutting Off His Leg.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) BRISTOL, TENN., April 12.—Luther Jones, the seventeen-year-old son of J. F. Jones, an employe at the Bristol Iron Furnace, was run over by a slag hopper while making coupling to-day, cutting one leg off close to his body, inflicting an injury from which he died this afternoon.

He was coupling up to make the tilt to carry the hopper, when the steam reversed of its own accord, drawing the hopper back over him.

RIVERSIDE HUNT ONE OF THE BEST

Duncan Wright, M. F. H., Furnishes Fine Sport for a Large Field.

TWO PINK COATS ARE SOLED

Hunt Dinner at the Club House, Speeches and Toasts, Galore.

(Special from a Staff Correspondent.) PETERSBURG, VA., April 12.—

"I remember how merry a start we got, when the red fox broke from the gorge, in a country so deep, with a scent so hot, that the hound could outpace the horse!"

(Adam Lindsay Gordon.)

There was no red fox of such as Mr. Gordon sang, for the gamest of all the creatures of the chase, do not infest the regions around Petersburg, where, three miles beyond the city, the Riverside Hunt Club has its kennels, installed near a handsome and attractive club house, a handsome and attractive "drag," but not the less, on that account, was the run of the Riverside Hunt a great and sportsmanlike success on yesterday.

The day was ideal, clear and bright overhead, with a footing well high perfect and scent literally breast high, just the day to encourage hounds to run "stems up" and to cause fences to grow contemptuously small in the eyes of even the timid horseman; a day when the cry of the hound and the sound of the horn caused every rider to "sit down" in the saddle and ride "hell for leather."

Mr. Duncan Wright, M. F. H., of Riverside Hunt, had announced that the fixture for 4 o'clock and the place of meet "Burnside," his country place, where he was early on hand to greet the members and the guests of the club.

At the meet the pink and olive green of Riverside was conspicuous, while the pink and Confederate gray of Deep Run Hunt of Richmond was also in evidence.

The Riders.

Those who rode were Mr. Duncan Wright, M. F. H., on "Arthur Charles," a thoroughbred; Mr. James Ruffin, Huntsman, on "Golden"; Messrs. Leroy Boone and Montgomery Jackson, on "Set Back" and "Kitty Dodo"; Miss Hamilton, on "Redlands"; Mr. H. C. Beattie, M. F. H., on "Deep Run Hunt, on 'Carnation'; Master Beattie, on "White Squirrel"; Mr. E. B. Snyder, on "Deep Run"; Mr. George Cole Scott, on "Fritz"; Mr. McKee Dunn, on "Mary Ann"; Mr. Richard Pergrin, on "Ladys Hope"; Mr. Jones, on "Ladys Moe"; Dr. McGill, on "Gypsy Queen"; Mr. W. F. Parsons, on "Black Velvet"; Dr. Gill, on "Q"; Mr. George Harrison, on "Ladys Beldame"; Mr. Harvey Seward, on "Riverdale"; Mr. Henniman, on "King Jackson," and Mr. Joseph Seward, on "Surprise."

Merry Clip.

Hounds were taken on from "Burnside" to "Duneden." Mr. McGill's estate, where they were cast and finding at once went away at a merry clip over the turf fields, closely followed by field, five in pink and the rest in "muff."

At the far end of "Duneden," is a long row of Confederate breastworks and between two of them a high rail fence closed in the estate. Here the first jump was encountered, those in the first flight taking it like birds, but alas! it was simply smashed into kindling wood by a green hunter, whose blindness exceeded his capacity. Hounds never slackened pace, but sailed away across the fields and scrambled over the fences in the hind estate, "Falkners," coming to a "check on the Boynton Plank road across the Seaboard Air Line tracks.

After a short breathing spell, during which hounds were rested forward, a new jump was made, the pack again took up the running, leading the cross country enthusiasts through Orr's and Marks's farms, across the Cox road and over the open fields for two and a half miles to the club house, where a large crowd had gathered to see the last two jumps leading into the enclosure.

But two accidents marred the day's sport. Mr. H. C. Beattie's clever mare "Carnation," put her legs into a hidden drain and came down heavily on her head, rolling her rider in the grass. Mr. Beattie was unhurt, but his mare cut her legs in several places.

Came to Grief.

Master Beattie, going hand and straight on his high jumping white pony, came to grief in a bog, when both of the hind legs were cut off, and the pony was hurt and both finished in great style over the last of the twenty-one jumps which the run afforded.

The "drag" was voted a rare success and the sport furnished by the master was excellent.

Among those who rode with the club house were Mrs. Helen Wright, Miss Helen Venable, the Messrs. Budd, Miss Mary Meade Bernard, Mr. and Mrs. Ashton Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hall Davis, Mr. and Mrs. James McRuffin, Mrs. Alexander Bryan, Mrs. Caske, Mrs. Alister Hamilton, Mrs. David Dunn, Mrs. M. C. Scott, Miss Anna Gill, Miss Mary Penney, Miss McNeill, Miss Percival, Miss Gammon, Miss Beattie Jones, Miss Towns, Mr. Alexander Hamilton, Dr. Ezzert Leigh, Mr. W. Gordon McCabe, Jr., Mr. Sydney Green, Mr. Henry Patterson, Mr. Nelson Brown, Mr. William Venable, Mr. Edward Venable, Mr. Stanley Dewitt, Mr. Brown, Mr. William Zimmer, Mr. Charles Plummer, Mr. William T. Davis, Mr. Bolling Wilcox, Mr. Whitmore, Mr. Wilson B. Jones, Mr. Samuel Budd, Mr. Thomas Holden, Mr. Richard Taylor, Mr. Colonel William H. Mason, Mr. Walter Sutherland, Mr. Collin Spottwood, Mr. Morton Townsend and Colonel James Gallagher.

Hunt Dinner.

Last night a hunt dinner was served at the Riverside Hunt Club, at which covers were laid for 24.

The Master, Mr. Duncan Wright, presided, and Mr. Ruffin officiated as "vice." Toasts were drunk, all standing, to the guests from Deep Run Hunt, to the Riverside Hunt and to the master. Songs dear to the heart of all who ride to hounds, followed, and "good nights" were not said until the members of "Burnside" had accepted an invitation to hunt with Deep Run the afternoon of April 21.

Mr. Beattie, M. F. H., of Deep Run, in speaking of the sport furnished this afternoon said:

"The Riverside Hunt has exceptional chances for the future. The hounds are open and fast, the fences are jumpable, and the members ride with a dash and in a bold way which is delightful to see."

ASHLAND.—The Finance Committee of the Town Council accepted the bid of Mr. J. D. Harris, of Philadelphia, to construct a sewerage, water and gas system in Ashland, and the matter was referred by the Council this afternoon to the Ordinance Committee.

YOUNG GIRL TRIES TO TAKE OWN LIFE

Despondent Because She Was Being Investigated, Drank Quantity of Laudanum.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WINTON-SALEM, N. C., April 12.—Miss Mattie Crowe, aged twenty years, who has been agent for the Southern Railway at Walnut Cove for a year or more, took an overdose of laudanum last night, and for an hour or more, fears were entertained that she would die.

Miss Crowe received notice a few days ago that she was to be transferred from the agency at Walnut Cove to the one at Hillsboro. Yesterday an auditor was sent to Walnut Cove to check up her books.

It appears that the investigation and report that she was to be transferred caused the young lady to become despondent. This is given as the cause of her taking the laudanum.

COCKADE CITY TO CLOSE SALOONS

Impolitic Move By Liquor Men Will Provoke Local Option Fight.

CITY BONDS READY FOR SALE

Young Ladies From Music Class to Sing at Easter Services.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) PETERSBURG, VA., April 12.—Local option is already brewing over here, to use a paradoxical expression, since the defeat of the early closing ordinance in the Board of Aldermen last Tuesday evening. It is very probable that a petition for a local option election will be circulated, and men on each side of the question express the opinion that in such an event Petersburg will go dry. The efforts of the liquor people to defeat the early closing ordinance are regarded as having been a very impolitic course, calculated to force the issue to their ultimate defeat by local option, when the passage of a midnight closing law would have quelled the matter for some time to come.

The temperance fight is led and directed by the Anti-Saloon League people, who are very closely allied with many churches in this city.

CITY BONDS READY.

The sewer, water pipe and sidewalk improvement bonds of the city are ready for sale, and sealed proposals for the purchase of the bonds will be received by the city Finance Committee until the twenty-third of April. The bonds are four per cent, forty-year securities, and will be coupon in form, fifty thousand dollars of the one thousand denomination, twenty-five thousand of the five hundred denomination.

A bank has been organized at McKenney, in Dinwiddie county with $10,000 capital, and the following officers: President, Dr. E. C. Powell; vice-president, John R. Doyle; cashier, J. H. Ligon; assistant cashier, J. R. Beck.

The Board of Stewards' recommendations as to improvements to the Washington Street Methodist Church were adopted by the congregation at a meeting last night. The proposed improvements will practically remodel the building, and include the removal of the two side galleries to meet a new gallery over the vestibule, extension of the pulpit recess, removal of organ and choir to rear of pulpit, and complete renovation of the church furniture.

The choir at St. Joseph's Catholic Church will be organized Easter Sunday morning by young ladies from the music class of St. Joseph's Academy, and by Mr. J. J. Keenan, basso, and Mr. R. Kingston, tenor, both of Richmond. Professor Burley will be the organist. The Kyrie Gloria, Sanctus, Benedictus and Agnus Dei from Von Bach's mass will be sung, and the offertory, Mr. Keenan will sing the Regina Coeli.

Sixteen riders, including several members of the Deep Run Hunt Club, followed the pack in a beautiful dry hunt this afternoon, with the start at Mr. Duncan Wright's country home, the finish at the Country Club.

PUBLIC DEBATE.

Assimilation the Best Solution of Immigration.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) ASHLAND, VA., April 12.—The public debate of the Washington Literary Society, at Randolph-McCorm College town, place were to-night in the chapel, and was largely attended. Spirited discussion was given to the subject of "Public Policy in the Immigration Problem." After an address by the president of the society, Mr. N. C. Tabler, the question was opened by Mr. William L. Dolly, Jr., of the affirmative, followed by Mr. Edgar D. Heflows, of the negative. Mr. Tabler, in his speech, extolled the decision in favor of the negative side of the question.

DIVORCE GRANTED.

Court Sunders Sacred Tie Because Husband Neglected Wife.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) DANVILLE, VA., April 12.—In the Corporation Court, Judge A. M. Alkmon, presiding, a decree has been rendered granting Mrs. Lillian Penn Anderson an absolute divorce from her husband, William Anderson, whom she married in Hillsboro, N. C., in July, 1901. The plaintiff in the case is the daughter of Buford Cook, a prominent farmer of Pittsylvania, and was granted a divorce because of neglect and desertion. The husband never appeared before court to answer the suit.

looking after one of these special interests.

Mr. Whitehead represented the cotton mill particularly, and was adviser in all the cases.

The territory in dispute lies in Emporia and its sister town, Belfield, just across the river.

The first applicant in Belfield was J. R. Browning, who kept a saloon on Baker Street. His application was refused, and he goes out of business May 1st. Then his brother, L. D. Browning, made an application for the license in the same place, and here arose the big fight over the clearing this street entirely of saloons. The court decided that the street was not a fit place, and the applicant not a fit man to conduct it.

On Halifax Street, in Belfield, Peebles and Slagle now have a bar. William Johnson also has one on that street, and there is one kept by the Wilson Company, incorporated, in the Virginia Hotel.

Of these Peebles and Slagle withdrew their application and the Wilson Company withdrew its application.

Wholesale Only.

Bradley Johnson was granted a license under an agreement in court that if he sold any liquor in the town of Emporia his license would be revoked. He can sell only at wholesale for liquor to be sent away.

Mr. W. W. Green owns the Virginia Hotel and to him was granted license with the restriction that he must give his personal supervision until June 1st, when he would bring his bar-keeper to be passed on by the court as to his being a fit and proper person to conduct the business.

H. C. Slagle was granted license at the old stand of Peebles and Slagle with these restrictions, that the electric piano shall be removed, that the bar-keeper be removed and that neither of the old firm of Peebles and Slagle or any bartender that was in their employ should be employed and that he should give his personal supervision until June 1st, when he will present his bar-keeper to be passed on by the court. Further, that no bartender that he should hereafter employ should have a key to the bar-room on Sunday and that it shall remain in Green's possession. This leaves two retail saloons in Belfield, both under restrictions of the court.

In Emporia.

The situation in Emporia will cause that town to be dry May 1st, temporarily, if not for the year.

There are now two bar-rooms on Brunswick Avenue in Emporia, one run by Peebles and Slagle, who also have one in Belfield, and another bar, run by Johnson, who refused the application of Ivy and Allen on the ground that they

SOUTH CAROLINA AT EXPOSITION

Commissioners Visit Exposition Grounds for Purpose of Selecting Suitable Site.

A MOST VALUABLE EXHIBIT

Burning of Chapel at Ocean View Was Work of Incendiary.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NORFOLK, VA., April 12.—Colonel William E. Gonzales, president of the August 12th, 1906, secretary and treasurer, and Colonel E. J. Watson, the commissioners from the State of South Carolina, to the Jamestown Exposition, arrived in Norfolk this morning from Columbia over the Seaboard, for the purpose of selecting a site for the old South State at the Jamestown Tercentennial Exposition. After breakfast at the Monticello Hotel, the South Carolina commissioners, in company with officials of the exposition, spent the morning at the exposition grounds.

Despite the fact the General Assembly of South Carolina only appropriated $20,000 for participating in the Jamestown Tercentennial Exposition, the exhibit will be one of the most complete and valuable from a Southern State. Unlike many States, South Carolina maintains a permanent exhibit, representing historical, manufacturing and agricultural displays. This exhibit is intact, and is ready for display at the Jamestown Exposition. It is valued at $5,000. The $20,000 appropriated is at the disposal of the commissioners for a building and expenses, and will enable the Old South State to show her wares in much more complete way than at first glance it is supposed.

It has been definitely decided by the Modern Woodmen of America to build a temple at the Jamestown Exposition.

A joint meeting of the Norfolk, Portsmouth and Newport News Camps of Woodmen was held in Odd Fellows temple, on Church Street, this evening for the purpose of perfecting plans for the reception of the headquarters of the order when they arrive here. A great class of 200 candidates will be initiated into the order here at that time.

State Deputy M. C. Doubles, of Richmond, was present at the meeting to-night relative to a continuance of the good work which has been done to secure the class of 200.

AGRICULTURAL BOARD.

The members of the State Board of Agriculture left this morning for the western branch to inspect the site proposed at Churchland for the Tidewater Experimental Station. This afternoon they inspected the Diamond Springs site at Princess Anne county. The board inspected the Indian River site offered, and later went down to the exposition grounds.

The Board of Agriculture now has before it three sites, consisting of sixteen different offers of farms. It will require one hundred acres for the site, and a favorable decision on the proposition is reached.

The offer of one hundred acres at Diamond Springs, in Princess Anne county, is absolutely gratis.

The Indian River Company offers free twenty-five acres of its immense tract of 2,100 acres, and offers to sell the balance of the land required at $100 an acre.

On the western branch no free offer is made, the site of one hundred acres being offered for $300 an acre. Most of the members of the State Board of Agriculture visited the other sites this evening, and there met a large number of truckers, who had come there to greet them, and incidentally thanked them for deciding to establish the sub-experiment station in Tidewater.

WORK OF INCENDIARY.

That the burning of the pretty little chapel in Belfield, which stood conspicuously on the green at Ocean View, between the hotel and the line of the Norfolk Railway and Light Company, was the work of an incendiary there can be but little doubt.
